UN Opens Debate Today On Crisis Between Turkey, Syria

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. Assembly prepared to open debate today on the Turkish-Syrian crisis without waiting for the outcome of Saudi Arabian mediation efforts.

Turkey, who has denied Syrian charges that she is about to launch a war, accepted King Saud's offer to mediate the dispute. But the Syrian government made clear it does not intend to enter such negotiations at present.

Acting Foreign Minister Khalil Kilias said in a statement in Damascus that Syria "cannot accept any mediation and reaffirms her determination to follow up her protest at the United Nations until the end."

Informants said Syria pressed for an immediate U. N. debate on her charges Russia, who has backed the Syrian charge with claims the United States is trying to engineer a Middle East War, was said to have added her voice to the demand.

Observers concluded that the Syrians and Russians wanted to get all the propaganda capital they can from their charges before getting down to bargaining.

This belief was strengthened by an announcement from Syrian Delegate Farid Zeinedine that his forces were not submitting a resolution to the Assembly "as things now stand." Zeinedine said talk of concrete proposals to deal with the Middle East crisis was premature.

Considerable confusion surrounded the progress of Saudi mediation moves.

The Saudi Arabian Embassy in Washington announced that both Turkey and Syria had accepted the mediation offer and that a Syrian delegation would meet the King within the next two days.

A spokesman at the Syrian Embassy in Washington said the embassy had no direct word from Damascus but he considered the Saudi Arabian information accurate.

Officials in Damascus, meanwhile, denied Syria had agreed to Saudi mediation. And a statement from the Syrian delegation to the U. N. said reports the Damascus government had agreed to mediation were "not in conformity with fact."

Predicts Rural Electrification To Triple By '75

WASHINGTON (AP)—A three-fold expansion of the country's rural electrification program by 1975 was forecast today by David A. Hamill, rural electrification administrator.

This would require expenditure of around one billion dollars a year.

The Rural Electrification Administration approved loans of $300,000,000 to the rural organizations to build and improve electric systems during the fiscal year which ended June 30, Hamill said.

For the preceding year, loans amounted to 189 million dollars.

"I believe that if the expansion continues as indicated, by 1975 it will require one billion dollars a year to finance the program," Hamill said in an interview.

Two factors will influence rural electric consumption, in Hamill's opinion. He said these are a constant surge of population into rural areas and the continuing demands of present rural users for more and more electric power.

Men who can harness the atom and plan outer space travel are gambling that they can control much less manageable forces: the human emotions of a highly unstable people.

There is no mystery about what Moscow is trying to accomplish in the Arab world.

The Russians do not want to start World War III. But they have gained great propaganda victories through their championing of the Arabs against Israel and through recent scientific advances.

In their determination not to surrender this initiative, Soviet policy is using all measures short of war, approaching as close to the brink as Moscow dares.

It is becoming clear that one of Khrushchev's immediate goals is to force a big power meeting of heads of state giving him a permanent and authoritative voice in the Arab world's destinies.

The Russians hope to force such a meeting by beating a constant tattoo on the world's nerves and then building up pressure on London and Washington by offering hope of a way out of a highly explosive situation.

Ike, Dulles Confer In Anticipation Of Talks With Macmillan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles conferred for 70 minutes today about countering Russian strides in missile development and Communist inroads in the Middle East.

Key State Department and White House officials also sat in. The talks were held in advance of Eisenhower's meeting Wednesday with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, one of the participants, offered no details of the discussions.

Macmillan is expected here between 9 and 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Dulles planned to follow up the White House talk by meeting later today with visiting British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to arrange an agenda for the high-level conference.

Eisenhower was reported thinking in terms of a North Atlantic scientific pool as a step to mobilize the free world's scientific know-how and resources.

Macmillan was understood to be aiming for a far more sweeping partnership under which British and American scientists would divide up scientific tasks in the modern weapons and missiles fields.

Eisenhower's speech will be broadcast at 8:35 p. m. (CST), by all major networks. There will be no television.

Judge In Girard Trial Explains Friendly Comment

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—The presiding Japanese judge said he made a slip of the tongue today at U. S. soldier William S. Girard's manslaughter trial.

Judge Yuio Kawachi said the slip came when he told Girard, who is accused of shooting a Japanese woman scrap collector: "The court does not feel that you fired this shot with intent to hit anyone."

The statement seemed a gain for the defense. But Kawachi told newsmen later:

"I did not mean to suggest a possible verdict by my statement. I only wanted to remove Girard's nervousness and fear and to suggest to him that the court has not yet decided what the charges and verdict should be."

Girard testifying in his own defense said it is right for the court to assume that his story of the shooting was that it was negligence or an accident.

The soldier admitted firing two blank cartridge cases from his grenade launcher to scare away Japanese brass collectors during the firing practice last Jan. 30. He claimed he fired one straight.

Launch Missile At Test Center

MISSILE TEST CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—A long range missile that wobbled in flight and apparently fell into the Atlantic Ocean was fired here today.

The public information office at Patrick Air Force Base declined to identify the missile but did say it was not the Vanguard rocket being developed to launch an earth satellite.

The launching came unexpectedly about 10:30 a. m.

Blustery winds postponed a Vanguard firing Monday.

18 Hurt In Anti-U.S. Bombings

By JOSEPH NEBBONNE

SAIGON (AP)—Time bombs today shattered the United States Information Agency library, a military bus and a hostel in a sudden outburst of anti-Americanism in Saigon. Eighteen persons, including 13 U. S. soldiers, were injured.

No one was killed. Two of the soldiers were reported in serious condition.

The soldiers belong to the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group here to train South Viet Nam's army. Their names were withheld. None was from mid-continent U. S.

The injured persons were in or near the bus and hostel. The bomb in the Information Service library exploded during the siesta hour when the building was empty.

It was the first case of anti-American attacks in Saigon in almost two years. There are some 2,000 Americans in the Viet Nam capital, including military and diplomatic personnel and construction company workers helping build two modern highways.

The bus and hostel bombings occurred within several minutes of each other this morning. A witness saw a few yards from the bus said about a dozen soldiers and officers, coming from the Metro-pole hotel, had just entered the vehicle when the blast occurred.

The bomb was placed in the engine of the bus, he said.

The time bomb at the American military hostel was hidden in a flower pot at the front. Four soldiers in the building were hurt.

The library bomb was apparently hidden behind some books.

Blame Red Agents

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials today said the bombing attack on Americans in Saigon was the work of Communist agents seeking to embarrass the Viet Nam government.

These officials said it is clear that the bombing of the U. S. Information Agency library, a bus and military hotel were designed to upset the friendly atmosphere at a time when Saigon is host to its first big international conference.

NAB DESERTER WHO SAWED WAY OUT OF WILLIAMSON JAIL

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—A young army deserter who sawed his way out of the Williamson county jail at Marion Monday was back in custody today.

The youth, Edward Eugene Gre, 26, of nearby Thebes, was recaptured by FBI agents, state police and Alexander county authorities as he slept late Monday beside an abandoned house at Ragsdale.

He had deserted his post at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., authorities said.

Officers at Marion did not reveal how Gre got the hacksaw blades he used to effect the jail-break.

FBI agents said they had seized Gre last January for desertion.

Flu Claims 150 Lives Since It Hit U. S.; Third In Pennsylvania

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Asian flu and its relatives have claimed the lives of 150 persons—and possibly many more—since the respiratory disease began sweeping across the country several months ago.

Fifty of the deaths, or roughly one-third of the nationwide total, were listed in one state—Pennsylvania.

It is practically impossible to get exact figures on flu deaths.

Reporting techniques differ among state health departments. Lengthy laboratory tests are required usually to confirm death from Asian flu.

The disease seems to hit hard elderly persons and retarded children. Both groups have lower resistance to diseases than healthy adults.

Hundreds of schools have been closed as a result of absenteeism—student and teacher—attributed to respiratory illnesses. Some schools later reopened.

College and high school football games have fallen victim to the disease.

Prisons and churches have felt the effect too.

For instance, in Atlanta, Ga., a city judge authorized the release of inmates from city prisons to prevent the spread of flu.

Church services were canceled in parts of the Lehigh Valley of Pennsylvania last Sunday because of fear of spreading the disease.

In Detroit, a judge caught up on his docket Monday by sentencing six men from the hospital to which he had been confined by flu two weeks ago.

A nationwide survey Monday showed the breakdown on flu deaths and school closings in the midcontinent.

MICHIGAN — Estimated 20 deaths, 17 of them in Detroit. The State Health Department said it has "no idea" of the number of flu cases. Dozens of schools were closed and school absences were indicated in the thousands.

OHIO — State Health Department reported 11 deaths "related to flu." Flu absence in schools ranged across the state from 10 to 50 per cent.

ILLINOIS — 10 Asian flu deaths reported by State Health Dept. (Continued on Page Seven)

Little Rock Guard Defederalization In Full Swing

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The release of 8,700 Arkansas National Guardsmen from federal duty got into full swing today as the Little Rock integration crisis continued in a state of suspended animation.

Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.), an unsuccessful peacekeeper so far in the state-federal struggle, said at Washington that the situation here "is being rapidly stabilized."

The Army in effect said the same thing last week when it pulled out half the 1,100 paratroopers from Little Rock and ordered the release of the Guardsmen.

Monday the Guardsmen began going off active duty. The Army estimated it might take 10 days before all 8,700 were released.

Gov. Orval Faubus had no immediate comment. He commented that "we're still occupied."

At the opening of the third session she flung herself face down on a bed with such force that she struck a headboard and was stunned momentarily. At the end of the scene she was led offstage where a patch was placed over the bruise.

She played out the performance before an opening night audience without further injury.

Five Non-Resident Taxpayers File Suit For Injunction Here

A contract between the Morgan county board of commissioners and the J. M. Clemmishaw Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, for reappraisal of real estate and business and industrial personal property was attacked in a suit filed Tuesday morning in Morgan county circuit court. The suit asked for an injunction to halt reappraisal work which has been in progress since last Jan. 1.

Plaintiffs in the suit, which strikes at the full-scale program of reassessment now under way, are A. W. Coursey, Polly J. Coursey, Max Robinson, Martha J. Robinson and Gladys Schugmann, all of Galesburg, who are taxpayers in Morgan county.

Named defendants in the injunction suit are the County Commissioners of Morgan County, Ralph Heaton, A. Paul Johnson, and Hobart Rigg; County Clerk George T. Douglas, County Treasurer Richard Y. Rowe, Jr., and the J. M. Clemmishaw Co.

Daniel J. Roberts of Galesburg and John S. Massion of Peru, Ill., are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

The suit recites that on Dec. 26, 1956, an agreement was entered into in writing between the J. M. Clemmishaw Company and the County of Morgan for revaluation of property. The contract was signed by Ralph G. Heaton, A. Paul Johnson, and Hobart Rigg, commissioners, and Harvey T. Clemmishaw, the price for the reappraisal service being $70,000.

County Has Paid $50,206

It is further set forth by the plaintiffs that the Clemmishaw company has completed a considerable portion of the work, and that Morgan county has already paid $50,206 to the company.

The plaintiffs then charge that the said agreement is unlawful, null, void, ultra vires, and contrary to law and public policy, and calls for the squandering and misappropriation of public funds; that said public funds have been unlawfully wasted and misappropriated; that the monies already paid to the company for performing under such contract as afore-said, have been illegal payments of public funds, and if the defendants herein are permitted to further perform said contract, it will result in further wasting and misappropriation of public funds, to the injury of your relators, and of all other taxpayers of Morgan county.

Claim Board Lacks Authority

It is alleged in the suit that the Board of County Commissioners has no authority, express or implied, to contract with private persons for the performance of any of the duties of the legally elected or appointed assessment officials of the county.

The complainants pray for a series of acts of judgment, including: That the agreement be set aside and declared unlawful, null, void, and ultra vires and contrary to public policy.

That the parties to the reappraisal agreement be perpetually enjoined and restrained from any further performance under the agreement, or through any officer, agents, personal representative, servant or employee.

That the County Clerk be enjoined and restrained from drawing upon the treasurer or Morgan county, any warrant or warrants for the payment of any obligation claimed to be due or owing (Continued on Page Seven)

PROBE SLAYING OF LINCOLN WOMAN

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP)—Police today investigated the shotgun slaying of Mrs. Joyce Seneal, 21, in her home.

Her body was found early today near a partially open front door by her husband, John O. Seneal, on his return from night shift work at the State School and Colony.

Coroner John Barry of Logan county said the woman was shot apparently while on a bed and struggled to the door. A shotgun was found nearby. State criminal investigators were called in to help with the inquiry.

U. S. Sergeant Tells Of Turning Informer Following Wild Party

NEW YORK (AP)—A U. S. Army master sergeant has testified that he betrayed his country and turned informer for the Russians after a wild Moscow hotel party with two Russian girls.

Sgt. Roy A. Rhodes, 40, testified in Brooklyn District Court Monday that he was paid for giving information to Soviet nationals in 1952.

Rhodes was testifying as a witness for the government in the espionage trial of Col. Rudolf I. Abel, 35, alleged master spy for the Soviet Union in the United States.

"The information you gave them was a truthful or untruthful?" Rhodes was asked.

"Some of both, sir," replied the veteran of 16 years in uniform. The Oklahoma-born soldier told Judge Mortimer W. Byers and a jury of nine men and three women that he had received $2,500 to $2,800 for giving the Russians information about himself, his early training in code work and about the habits of military and State Department personnel assigned to the U. S. Embassy in Moscow.

Rhodes said he arrived in Moscow Jan. 22, 1951, and was put in charge of the embassy garage. He had been trained, he said, in code and cipher work at the Pentagon.

The sergeant traced his covert activities in Moscow to a drinking bout in December 1951. He said he was celebrating news that his wife and daughter had received permission from Soviet authorities to join him.

After a night's revelry with his two Russian mechanics and two Russian girls, he said, he wrote on the next morning in bed with one of the girls in a strange room.

"Five or ten weeks later," he said, the same girl called him at the garage and he arranged to meet her.

He said they met two men in the street, one an English-speaking Russian.

Rhodes testified that he never saw the girl again after that day and met the English-speaking Russian several times.

Rhodes gave no indication whether direct examination that he knew Abel or had any dealings with him.

Abel faces a possible death sentence if he is convicted. He is accused of stealing American military and atomic data while posing for nine years as a Brooklyn artist.

Rhodes said he was supposed to keep in touch with the Russians after he returned to the United States. He said he did not do so.

Time For Prayerful Resolve —

West Faces Toe-To-Toe Struggle In Mideast

Editor's Note—William L. Ryan, writer of the following story, is just back from one of the frequent trips he makes to the Mideast.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Foreign News Analyst.

The decade cold war battle over the Middle East seems about to be joined. For Western civilization, this is a moment for prayerful resolve.

The democratic world faces a toe-to-toe struggle with communism over a vast sun-baked section of the globe which President Eisenhower calls the most strategic area on earth. The winner will be the side with the strongest nerves and greatest resolve.

Nikita S. Khrushchev and his Communist cohorts are toying with global peace. One serious mistake, one bad miscalculation in the Middle East now could bring the world to the edge of disaster. This would be no Korea. Much more is at stake, including the economic health of all Western Europe.

All the elements for a little war are in evidence today in the Arab world. A big war remains a possibility—though not a probability. But Soviet communism persists in courting catastrophe.

Men who can harness the atom and plan outer space travel are gambling that they can control much less manageable forces: the human emotions of a highly unstable people.

There is no mystery about what Moscow is trying to accomplish in the Arab world.

The Russians do not want to start World War III. But they have gained great propaganda victories through their championing of the Arabs against Israel and through recent scientific advances.

In their determination not to surrender this initiative, Soviet policy is using all measures short of war, approaching as close to the brink as Moscow dares.

It is becoming clear that one of Khrushchev's immediate goals is to force a big power meeting of heads of state giving him a permanent and authoritative voice in the Arab world's destinies.

The Russians hope to force such a meeting by beating a constant tattoo on the world's nerves and then building up pressure on London and Washington by offering hope of a way out of a highly explosive situation.

From a big power meeting, the Russians could work to emerge as the leading champions of Arab aspirations. Behind scenes they apparently hope to push forward relentlessly with economic, military and political penetration. They seek destruction of Western Allied influence in the Middle East, so that the northern tier of resistance to communism is broken and there is no hope left for an effective solid front.

Moscow already has a strong foothold in Syria, through military dependence. An economic trap, too, is being set for the Syrians.

If the Soviet program goes according to plan, Turkey would be effectively encircled. The northern tier will have come apart. With Syria astride the oil pipelines to the Mediterranean, Iraq on the Persian Gulf and Egypt sitting on the Suez Canal, Western Europe's oil would be at the mercy of Arab nationalist demands.

Will the Russians risk total war to pursue such aims?

One must go back a decade to examine the chances.

Iran, 1948: Moscow refused to get out of Azerbaijan. But when the situation became really dangerous the Russians retreated.

They would not risk war.

Berlin, 1948: When the Soviet blockade became too dangerous, Moscow called it off.

Korea, 1953: The Soviet gamble fell short of its goals. An unsure post-Stalin regime saw the threat of a new war. The Russians pulled back, pressed for an armistice.

Middle East, March 1956: Those in the area at the moment of feverish crisis felt the peace of the world was hanging in the balance. Suddenly a Moscow statement pulled the rug from under Egypt's Nasser and other Arabs who might have anticipated total Soviet support.

Suez, November, 1956: The Russians talked of intervention, threatened war, but in the U. N. they labored to bring about a cease-fire.

The Russians need sustained Arab world tension if they are to push toward their goals. The Soviet policy aims at controlled turmoil. Indications are they will continue leading the world to the brink and suddenly pulling back to consolidate gains.

The big question: Will the Russians be able indefinitely to pull back in the nick of time?

The Lesson Of Sputnik

In the sputtering wake of "Sputnik," the Russian moon, many have said that the Soviet Union's achievement could prove a blessing in disguise for America.

Some declare this shows forcefully how laggard is our training of scientists and engineers, not to mention others.

Walter Lippman sees it as evidence of the damage done by a curious double standard applied in the United States. He believes we demand the best for ourselves as individuals, yet actually starve our schools and other vital public institutions.

Those who think "Sputnik" may be a blessing hope that it will shock us into facing our shortcomings, and shake us out of unending smugness and complacency over our alleged massive superiority as a people.

No question of it, most Americans imagine that nearly everything American is the best, whatever the field of endeavor.

Our very great achievements in many realms are pyramided upon a base of rich material resources and set within a broad, fortunate climate of freedom. Too often we tend to forget how much we owe to the "luck of the draw" that gave us these riches and the liberty to develop them as we wished.

We have no monopoly upon scientific genius, or any other kind, for that matter. There is no point here in attempting to catalogue the accomplishments of other peoples in various technical fields. They are legion. A good deal that we are proud of we have borrowed in the first instance.

We will not win the race for supremacy in science, for military survival in competition with hostile communism, if we do not acknowledge that we do not enjoy an inherited superiority over others.

We can hold our own or win out in the great human competition only as we approach our tasks with humility, with full recognition of the very substantial and often surpassing talents of others.

There are many wonderful advantages in being an American. But being born great is not one of them. Just like anybody else on earth, we have to earn greatness and not smugly assume we have it.

If we do not humbly labor for it, it will slip away and pass to others. That, perhaps, is the overriding lesson of "Sputnik."

Egypt's Phony Excuse

The Egyptian government has now implemented its agreement to help stiffen the defenses of Syria.

The reasoning behind the dispatch of Egyptian troops to Syrian soil is, of course, fallacious. Syria is not in imminent danger of attack from Turkey or anybody else.

The whole effort to suggest peril for Syria is a typical Communist exercise in fraud. Russian blasts at Turkey are part of the game. Egypt and Syria, playing along with the Soviet Union, have little choice but to throw in together in the Middle East.

Possibly, in the light of Russia's success with the earth satellite, they now believe they are making not merely the only choice but a good one.

Whatever they think, the fraud in their position is not diminished. If there is any danger to anyone in the Middle East, it is not from Turkey or any nation which still chooses to keep itself free of ties with communism.

The menace of arms was introduced into the Middle East originally by the Kremlin. To the Kremlin we must still look for the source of what danger resides today in that explosive region.

'Grandma' Marlene Has Few If Any Beauty Secrets; Still Glamorous

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U-P)—America today is full of glamorous grandmothers, but Marlene Dietrich, one of the most beautiful, probably has the fewest beauty secrets.

"I wash my face with soap," she admitted cheerfully, "and I don't own a jar of skin cream. I keep only one bottle of perfume."

Mar Dietrich could probably wash her face in seawater and still get by as remains as faultlessly lovely as ever. Whatever she had, she still has.

Generous is her trade mark, but never has impressed her very much.

The biggest misconception about Marlene is that you cannot be glamorous and also clean house. Wash dishes — and do everything Marlene does.

"What do most women who look to be glamorous? In America I would say it is insecurity in their own judgment.

"They become too regimented. To feel they are well-dressed they must have the assurance of others — they must have the seal of approval to be sure they haven't made a mistake."

"But that is where they make their mistake. Their own individuality cannot come through if they follow a pattern, yet they must follow a pattern to feel secure."

Miss Dietrich, who recently completed "A Witness for the Prosecution," usually makes one picture a year now, does four weeks in Las Vegas, has no ambitions to storm the ballrooms of television.

"Why should I?" she asked. "I am not trying to prove anything. She lives simply. When she isn't working, she likes to attend concerts and Broadway openings. The rest of the time she spends reading — two to three books a week — and caring for her three young grandchildren.

"There is so much you want to do for children, and so very little you actually can do," she said. "You can watch their health and equip them with some basic ideas you believe in. You can refrain from giving them candy."

"As for the rest of it, they'll do what they want to anyway." Asked if she could sum up her philosophy in a sentence, Marlene shrugged wryly with her mouth, then said:

"Do your duty—but do it every day."

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U-P)—Three years ago, Miss Gaynor was told by 20th Century-Fox that her services were no longer needed.

Now she's back on the lot with one of the prize roles of this or any other year.

She's playing Nellie Forbush, the pert nurse from Little Rock in "South Pacific." It's a role that many a movie queen would give anything to snag, but Miss Gaynor is a walk. She was the only girl who tested for it.

And what a sweet victory it was! Now she's welcomed back to the studio where she got her start in movies.

"They let me go just before I started 'There's No Business Like Show Business,'" Miss Gaynor recalled in her dressing room. "No explanation. No farewell. They just told me my opinion would not be picked up."

"But I think it worked out for the best. I've been pretty lucky on the outside. Now, when I come back to the studio, they accept me as I am."

"It's different when you stay at the studio where you started out, especially if you began when you were young. Everybody at the studio thinks of you as 'Our Little Miss.' They can't understand that you have grown up."

Miss Gaynor continued to grow in stature when she went out on her own. Picking her roles carefully, she did pictures with Bing Crosby, Donald O'Connor and George Gobel. Now she has two hits in the theaters. "The Joker Is Wild" and "Les Girls."

Swelling Numbers on Relief

Is Paradox of Prosperity

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (U-P)—One great paradox of American life today is that nearly five million people are receiving public assistance from state and federal governments. The total cost to the taxpayers is around three billion dollars a year.

This public expenditure for the relief of poverty is made in spite of the fact that there is now record prosperity. There are 67 million people employed and another 6.7 million are drawing Old Age and Survivors Insurance under Social Security.

Accounting for this situation is a complicated story. Over 2.4 million of the people now "on relief" are getting what's known as Old Age Assistance—OAA. Their average age is 75. Their problem is created by the simple fact that more people are living longer. Many need costly medical care.

When the Social Security system was set up 20 years ago, it covered only industrial workers. Farmers, the self-employed and other groups weren't covered until Congress passed amendments to the Social Security Act in 1954.

Older workers in these groups, previously uncovered, now have to depend on public assistance if they're no longer income.

Government Old Age and Survivors Insurance payments—OASI—are based on past employment and earnings. People paid low wages get low benefits when they retire.

These OASI payments may not be enough to keep them alive. To make up the difference they go on OAA. There are nearly 600,000 people now on these rolls, getting supplementary public assistance. Public Assistance, or PA, is based on the need of the individual. OASI payments are not based on need.

The poorer the state, the heavier its PA case load.

ADC—Aid to Dependent Children—accounts for 600,000 more cases on the public assistance rolls. This aid is given for children under 18 living with a close relative who is in need. Again, the highest incidence is in the poorer states.

The ADC case load has been changing recently due to OASI amendments. Now, when an insured worker dies, the surviving spouse gets immediate, additional aid for dependent children. There were 713,000 of these cases last year.

Aid to the Blind—AB—accounts for another 100,000 of the people receiving public assistance today. Aid for the Permanently and Totally Disabled—APTD—accounts for 244,000 more.

If a working parent is disabled, private family resources may be exhausted rapidly and public assistance becomes necessary for both adults and dependent children.

A Glance Into The Past

30 YEARS AGO

Many "rubbernecks" were in the streets last night looking for the international racing balloons which took off from St. Louis yesterday morning. Nearly everyone saw at least one balloon, but most people saw two or three, and one keen-eyed spotted all nine of them. The telegraph said the balloons were also seen at Panama, Cairo and Zion City.

Mrs. Mae Randall Black has returned from an enjoyable trip to St. Louis, where she attended a theatrical performance at the Olympic and saw the balloons start on their trips. One was seen from the train and appeared to be traveling as fast as the train.

Indications are that public assistance payments will grow. As population increases, the number of older and dependent youngsters both increase. Also, Congress has continually liberalized public assistance provisions of the Social Security Act.

The average public assistance case costs about $50 a year now, but there is an inflationary factor in this. A $50 monthly relief check now will buy only what $30 would buy in 1945. So the total cost will probably go up, too.

WASHINGTON (U-P)—A fable for the future:

As it turned out, the United States and Russia landed on the moon at the same time. One American, One Russian. Each jabbed a flagpole into the lava, like ground. The Stars and Stripes faced the Hammer and Sickle. Then the two pioneers grinned at each other.

"Sputnik," said the American, since that was the only Russian word he knew.

"Brooklyn," replied the Russian who had a sister there.

They set about their respective scientific chores, bouncing lightly about in the weak moon gravity. Each made a broadcast to the folks back home. By some unspoken agreement neither pioneer mentioned that another pioneer was present.

Then, exhausted, they sat down together.

"Brooklyn," said the American, tentatively.

"Sputnik," replied the Russian, politely.

Conversation lagged. It is hard to talk through a space helmet even if you know the language. But then the Russian produced a pocket chess set. The American's eyes lighted.

"Pawn to queen's four," he murmured, and made his opening move.

The chess match ended in a draw. Then, needing exercise, they Indian-wrestled. Exhausted, they traded dictionaries.

"Peace," said the American in Russian.

"It's wonderful," grinned the Russian in English.

They were at the point of embracing when their short-wave radios began crackling furiously.

"It's war!" cried the pioneers in simultaneous Russian and English.

They listened, appalled. Washington was in ruins. Moscow but a memory. New York was in rubble. Radioactive rats scurried through the scorched bricks that had been Leningrad.

"You've started it," said the American reproachfully, spelling out the words from his borrowed dictionary.

"No... you... did," retorted the Russian, who could say "no" in any language.

Suddenly the American's radio began to crackle with a new note of urgency. From a secret underground command post buried deep in the Rockies came a crisp message from the President of the United States:

"Understand Russians also landed on moon. Essential to preservation of American way of life that they be wiped out to the last man."

"Trained to obedience, the American frantically raised his atomic rifle.

"Must," cried the American hoarsely. "Orders. Kill you to last man."

"Man? Man?" screamed the Russian, thumbing pages madly. "But... I... not... man... I... woman."

This, children, explains why there is peace on the moon today, even if there is a frightful shortage of child-size space helmets.

Over Half Hospital Beds Occupied by Mental Cases

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Some of the facts about mental illness are startling. Included in the information compiled by the National Health Education Committee is an estimate that 16 million people in the United States alone are suffering from some form of mental disorder.

Slightly more than one out of every two hospital beds is occupied by a mental patient. Thus, about 34 out of 100 of the nearly 1,400,000 patients occupying hospital beds on any given average day were there for mental reasons. Altogether during the past year, about 2½ million men, women and children were treated for some form of mental disorder in a mental hospital.

All but a small proportion of mentally diseased patients are treated in public hospitals supported by a state, county, city, or the Veterans Administration.

Only about two out of 100 are cared for in private institutions. Each year about 200,000 new patients are admitted to mental hospitals or psychiatric units of general hospitals.

The cost of mental illness is staggering. It is estimated that the direct cost of mental illness today is in the neighborhood of $1,170,000,000 a year. This is made up of expenditures for maintenance of hospitals, compensation and pension payments to veterans, construction of new mental hospital facilities, and largest of all, loss in earnings of patients admitted to mental hospitals.

It would have been nice to have been first to launch a satellite, but if we can't let's be glad it was done at all.

Donut Games Can Pep Up Your Halloween Party

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Witches, black cats, spoons and donuts add to the fun of a Halloween party. Here are some lively contest games that will delight your friends of any age.

1. Donut String — Kiss Game: Boy and girl each hold end of string in mouth, with donut hung in center. Idea is to take up slack of string in mouth by gritting teeth, until one or the other is able to take bite out of donut first.

2. Donut Pushing Race: Guests line up in a row at starting line, with a stack of three donuts before each. They kneel in racing fashion and try to push the donuts with their nose to the finish line.

3. Donuts From the Sky: For a dramatic climax contest to your party, play "Donuts from the sky." Attach donuts to the strings of balloons, which are held up on the ceiling by a master string. Towards the close of your party, release this string so that the balloons bearing donuts float down among your guests. They all scramble to get the balloons and the donuts and a prize goes to the catcher of the most.

4. Donut Dunking Contest: Have a large bowl filled with milk with a donut floating on top for each contestant. Players put their hands behind their backs, after placing a piece of hard candy in their mouths. The winner is the one who eats the donut without swallowing the candy.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Grapefruit juice, braised chuck steak with green peppers and onions, whipped potatoes, buttered carrots, seeded rolls, butter or margarine, applesauce, donuts, coffee, tea, milk.

Stormy Council Session Results In New Contract For Engineering Survey

Stormy discussion marked the narrow eight to five acceptance of a letter from Cassler and Stapleton, consulting engineers, releasing the city from a contract made in July of 1956 concerning an engineering survey of the City's municipal power distribution system.

A motion by Mathews to accept the letter was passed over the protests of aldermen DeFrates, Goodey, Kelly, Sims and Souza, followed by the passage of a motion to accept a contract with Burns and MacDonald, consulting engineers of Kansas City, Mo., to complete the distribution survey of the city by a nine to four majority.

Mayor Answers Questions

In answer to a number of queries from the various aldermen, Mayor DuBois stated that "I have been advised that it is necessary to have a nationally recognized firm of engineers to make a survey if we expect to sell any bonds to finance improvements," and further added that the present council is entirely new, and the present light committee does not want Cassler and Stapleton in the picture.

The firm of Burns and MacDonald and the local firm of Cassler and Stapleton are holders of the present distribution survey contract on an 87-13% respective joint agreement. At a previous council meeting action was taken to ask the local firm for a letter of release which would allow the city to make a new contract for the engineering survey.

Calls For Moderation

Rev. Milo Smith, in attendance at the council meeting to give the invocation, spoke to the aldermen asking that they forget personalities and think of the "long-range good to the City of Jacksonville," and that "you must answer to yourself and those in your ward for your decisions."

The discussion continued in a less heated manner, followed by a voice vote accepting the letter.

Make Appointments

Mayor DuBois received confirmation on his nominations of Tom Cornish to the board of appeals; Earl Grojean to the cemetery board; and Mrs. Clarence Egenberger to the zoning board. He also paid tribute to Robert Capps and Cret Haneline for their community service on the board of appeals and zoning board respectively.

Alderman Rowe announced that he would like to postpone a meeting with the village of South Jacksonville to discuss water and sewer contracts until a report is heard concerning the condition of the present plant.

Bids for repairs at the water plant were read from the Marine Construction Co.; Due Brothers and Gary; and Hugh Gibson Co., Inc. All bids were passed on to the water committee for evaluation.

Parking Problem Discussed

Alderman Fitzsimmons said that he would like to defer action on the parking problem created by the MacMurray dormitory on Hardin avenue until police officials can meet with college officials. He said an effort would be made to solve the problem without restricting parking on either side, if possible.

Alderman Kelly reported that a large road grader is working on the road known as Victory Drive and is expected to be in operation around Lake Jacksonville some time during the last of this week.

Mayor DuBois reported that William Hatfield would be in the city to inspect the sewer plant on Saturday of this week, and that the public would be invited to hear the full report of his findings.

A letter from the State of Illinois stated that they would be glad to cooperate with the city by diverting rain water into a separate sewer, and that the recent construction at the School for the Blind would be changed as soon as funds become available.

To Spray Trees Soon

Mayor DuBois asked cooperation on the part of the citizens concerning the spraying of trees which would be started as soon as the leaves are on the ground, and that anyone who would like the city to spray trees on private property to be sure and make application as soon as possible.

Alderman Goodey was asked to investigate a request by the 4-H Campers Association to start a timber management project on a plot of ground south of the present boys camp area on Lake property.

Alderman Kelly moved that the acting superintendent be authorized to mediate a more adequate service contract from the General Telephone Co., with regard to the metallic wire service at the Naples pipeline site. He said the service "has never been in satisfactory operation" from the start and that a man has to be sent to Naples each time a pump is put into operation.

Permission was granted on a request by the Chamber of Commerce to install street signs in the business district to advertise

Jim is just about set to take the boat, which cost him about $180, including a secondhand motor, out on its shakedown cruise.

TOURIST VIEW—Hardly a vacation spot, grim Alcatraz prison, perched on solid rock in the middle of San Francisco Bay, is one of the must-see sights for tourists visiting the Redwood Empire. The maximum security prison looks almost pleasant in this view, as it is framed by two schooners. Most of the visitors are satisfied to view Alcatraz from this distance, and no doubt all of the inmates would be, too.

Many Attend First Fellowship Meet At Pike Church

PITTSFIELD—The University of Life, a program of Sunday evening fellowship meetings, had its first session Sunday night and will continue each Sunday night through November 24 from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Methodist church. Movies and appropriate programs have been worked out for the children during the regular programs for adults, which constitutes a program for the entire family each meeting night.

The meeting Sunday began with a snack supper, followed by group singing led by Mrs. Edna Mae Brown, chorister. Group sessions and devotions followed. Sunday night's session had for its theme "Salute To Courage," a motion picture in color and a discussion on ways of ministering to the handicapped.

Next Sunday the topic will be "Concert With The Ostrich," a program of Swiss handbells, the singing saw, musical glasses, sleigh bells, piano, accordion and trombone. The meeting on November 3 will feature a message by Dr. Frank Marston, pastor of Grace Methodist church in Jacksonville. Mrs. Glenn Smith and Mrs. Kermit Klinefelter were chairmen of the snack supper committee Sunday night and report an attendance of about two hundred persons.

NEW ROAD SURFACE

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Tests are being made here of a non-stretchable rubber coating for highway surfacing. Road officials say the cost is five to six cents a gallon more than conventional asphalt, but the rubber is supposed to be more durable, easier to lay and maintain and will provide more traction.

HIGH REPLACEMENT RATE

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway's new theater season is setting some kind of a record for cast changes during out of town try-outs.

There's always been a certain amount of shaking down and shifting during the warm-up weeks, but thus far five shows have made a total of 10 replacements in key roles. One of the five, "Saturday Night Kid," later was withdrawn.

CONTRACT SIGNED

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Douglas P. Moreland went back to his home in Fort Pierce, Fla., with a signed contract he expects to bring him a good income.

Douglas, aged 6, will get 50 cents for every "A" he gets in school. The ante rises to a dollar when he makes all "A's." The contract is with Grandpa Verne Bickelhaup, and it is witnessed and sealed, red ribbon and all.

Serve 200 Ham And Bean Dinners At Pittsfield

PITTSFIELD—The public response to the Chuck Wagon Dinner sponsored by the local Business and Professional Women on Saturday evening was good. Two hundred ham and bean dinners were served between the hours of 5 and 8 in the evening. The dinner is an annual event of the club's program.

Four members of the club attended the seventh district meeting in Jacksonville on Sunday, beginning with luncheon at the Dunlap Hotel and followed by a program in the afternoon. Those who attended from here were Marjorie Hedrick, president, Nellie Fudge, Mabel Wilsey and Regina Carr.

Attend Rebekah Meet
Mrs. Charles Nelson of Griggsville and Miss Minna Bauch of Pittsfield were delegates from their respective Rebekah Lodges to the Rebekah Grand Assembly of the 21st District held in Springfield last week, where eight hundred delegates from over the state convened.

The delegates will give a report of the Assembly at the next regular meetings of the lodges from which they were delegates, Griggsville Dove No. 12 and Pittsfield Colfax No. 88.

News Notes
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carey and daughter of Northbrook, Ill., spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. A. B. Carey, on South Monroe street.

Mrs. Anna Sanderson Dustin of Springfield will arrive Tuesday for a visit in the homes of her son, Charles Dustin of Summer Hill and her cousin, Mrs. William Kaeser in Pittsfield. Mrs. Dustin has many friends here where she lived for many years. Her father, the late George Sanderson, was an early postmaster of Pittsfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kline, Sr. of Scottsburg, Ind., were weekend guests of their son, Marshall Kline, Jr., music teacher in the local schools.

Mel Kuesthe, a former coach in the Pittsfield high school, now holding a similar position at Edwardsville, Ill., was in Pike County for some duck hunting over the weekend and visited with friends.

Clark Shaw has arrived from Long Beach, Calif., and after a visit of a few days with relatives and friends in Summer Hill and Pittsfield, will be accompanied home by his aunt, Miss Jessie Shaw, and Mrs. Maggie Helkey. The women have spent the winter months in California for a number of years.

SUGAR TO MURDER

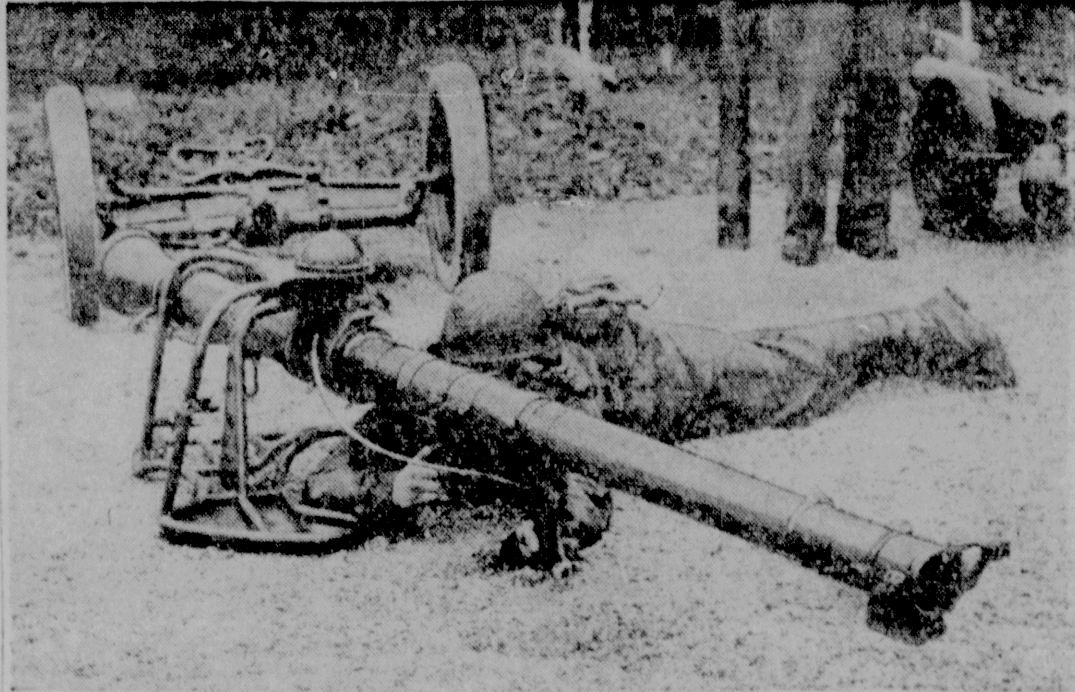

NEW YORK (AP)—Playwright John van Druten is turning to murder and melodrama for his next Broadway outing.

Van Druten, previously an expert in such sugared amenities as "The Voice of the Turtle" and "I Remember Mama," is adapting "Anatomy of Murder," a novel that won't be published until January.

The book, written by a Michigan supreme court justice, is assured of the best-seller lists already as a book-club selection, and as a drama it is expected to be ready for showing by early spring.

OFF COURSE

SHORT PUMP, Va. (AP)—A flamingo, which should have been flitting about palm trees and sandy tropical areas, turned up in a pond with three domestic ducks here. The three-and-a-half foot tall bird drew the attention of the Virginia Game Commission. Commission experts said it wasn't impossible for the bird to fly to Virginia but highly improbable, and expressed the view that it had escaped from a bird dealer.

TANK KILLER—This new nine-centimeter long-range anti-tank recoilless rifle is readied for testing at Stockholm, Sweden. The new Swedish weapon, which is the equivalent of a 90-millimeter gun, is expected to be a powerful addition to the nation's arsenal because of its light weight and wallop. When removed from its two-wheeled carriage in the background, the anti-tank gun weighs 176 pounds.

Navy Appointee

A Jacksonville young woman, Shirley Jeanne Hipkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hipkins, 1037 Beesley avenue, has received word from the Navy Department, Washington, D.C., she has been accepted as a clerk typist and to report in Washington, Friday, Oct. 25.

Miss Hipkins is a graduate of the Jacksonville High School, class of 1937 and of the Personnel Training School in Omaha, Neb.

MONEY TO MAKE MONEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Money posted to guarantee actors' salaries on Broadway is now going to work to make more money.

The guarantee funds, covering two weeks' wages for all performers, must be posted by every producer when he launches a show. The stipulation is insisted on by Actors' Equity, the performing union, and at the peak of the season the amount on deposit averages a half million dollars.

Now, with Equity's okay, the bank which holds all the deposits, will keep part of them in a checking account and part in an investment account. The interest will be turned over to the League of New York Theatres, producers' organization.

The league hasn't decided yet what it will do with the new revenue.

LITTER BUGS

IRON RIVER, Mich. (AP)—When the Summer Sunshiners 4-H Club spent two days picking up litter along a two-mile stretch of U. S. 2 they found 36,952 pieces of paper, 639 cans, 176 bottles and 291 objects of clothing ranging from ties to diapers.

Flu Claims 150 Lives Since It Hit United States

ment. In Chicago, health officials said there were 384 confirmed cases of Asian flu. Elsewhere in the state, there were "upward of 33,000." There were relatively few school closings because the health department was advising that children are less likely to get flu at school than in playing actively with other children.

MICHIGAN — Two Asian flu deaths, both elderly, chronically ill persons. State Health Division said 1,719 flu cases last week raised year's total to an estimated 4,650, of which 21 were established as Asian flu. School absenteeism was high in parts of the state but few were reported closed. Jefferson and Columbia areas in central Missouri and Scott County in the southeast were classified epidemic areas.

TENNESSEE — A total of 3,104 cases reported last week as compared with 187 in the same week last year. State Health Commissioner said he believes most are Asian flu. Many schools were closed three to five days.

MINNESOTA — 14 cases of Asian flu 6,000 to 7,000 school absences, most traceable apparently to flu. About six school closings.

KENTUCKY — 15,000 flu cases outside of Louisville reported in week ending Oct. 19. Thousands of other cases in Louisville. Three Pendleton County schools closed for remainder of the week. In western Kentucky, all public schools outside Henderson in Henderson County were closed Monday for the week when 1,170 students were absent. About 1-3 the enrollment. In eastern Kentucky, one grade and high school were closed.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The incidence of flu in Milwaukee is declining, but the Wisconsin Board of Health said Monday the spread of the disease is expected to continue to other parts of the state for several weeks.

Spokane for the board said it was expected the flu will radiate into the state from the Milwaukee area, which was hit the heaviest and earliest by the influenza.

Meanwhile, Belmont College resumed classes Monday after taking a week's recess. Classes had been called off Oct. 14 when 30 per cent of the students were absent because of illness.

ADENAUER RE-ELECTED
Bonn, Germany (AP)—West German's Bundestag today elected Konrad Adenauer to his third four-year term as chancellor. Adenauer's election was a foregone conclusion after his Christian Democratic Union gained an absolute majority in the Bundestag, the lower house of Parliament.

Predict TV Satellite Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—A television "station" that circles the earth hundreds of miles high every 90 minutes probably will be launched into the skies within a few years, Navy scientists said today.

The TV satellite could easily be equipped with a 6 or 12-inch telescope, they said. It would be powered by solar batteries, drawing power from the sun, and could remain in operation for decades. It would be aimed and focused from the ground.

But the Navy scientists said at a news conference their program contemplates a space observation camera and telescopes aimed into the heavens and answering questions about the universe.

Last week the Navy sent two men in a gondola nearly 16 miles above the earth. They came back with photos of the sun that surpasses anything ever before seen, said Prof. Martin Schwartzchild of Princeton University.

Finn Twins Do It Again—Handcuff Public Official

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 42-year-old Finn twins, Charles and George, have done it again—handcuffed a public official.

This time the object of their attempted citizens' arrest was Superior Judge Kenneth N. Chantry. In 1954 they put the cuffs on U.S. Atty. Laughlin Waters for that they were sentenced to jail.

The twins, embroiled in years-old litigation over ownership of a surplus World War II plane, seized Judge Chantry on the City Hall steps Monday.

They said they were arresting him for "conspiracy to steal our airplane through fraud and trickery." Judge Chantry had presided for one day last July in a suit brought against the Finns. He withdrew when they alleged he had an interest in the corporation which filed the suit.

Police persuaded one of the twins to surrender the key to the handcuffs and the judge was freed. Dist. Atty. William McKesson said there was no basis for the Finns' demand for a complaint against the judge.

A few hours later George was sentenced to five days in jail for contempt of court in another phase of the controversy over the plane. He was released on a writ of habeas corpus.

Seizure of the plane by the federal government was the reason the Finns handcuffed Waters three years ago.

Both British and American spokesmen continued to play down the emergency character of the Eisenhower-Macmillan conference. They acknowledged, however, that it probably would not have been scheduled at this time if it had not been for Russia's reported success in launching an intercontinental missile and shooting a satellite around the earth.

British strategy on the Middle East seemed to be to persuade Eisenhower to agree to a joint policy in this oil-rich area, something that has not existed since British-French-Israeli forces invaded Egypt a year ago.

Eisenhower and Dulles, on the other hand, appeared likely to hold out for continued strictly American moves but with a promise of more consultation with the British and possibly the French.

In advance of the meeting, British and American informants said Eisenhower and Macmillan would make no earth-shaking decisions. The get-together, they said, was mainly to make certain each understands the significance of Soviet moves in the past two months.

NICKELL'S HEALTH TESTS TO DECIDE OF HELL RUN
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—State School Supt. Vernon L. Nickell said today only a doctor's office examination stand between him and a decision whether to seek a fifth term.

Nickell said he will make an announcement of his plans at least by next week and perhaps earlier.

The Republican state official entered the hospital for a check-up last Wednesday and was released Friday. Before entering, he complained of being tired after a hard day's work but said he ate and slept well since his recovery from an illness earlier this year.

Nickell said school people have been urging him to run for reelection.

PHILIPPINE POLITICIANS PACK PISTOLS
MANILA (AP)—The Philippine Constabulary says leading present and former government officials have 995 guns—enough to equip two battalion combat teams.

With national elections just three weeks away, the constabulary warned pistol-packing politicians they are allowed only four guns each.

The information released showed little effect of efforts to limit the number of guns carried by Cabinet members, senators, representatives and governors.

Flu Toll At Dixon State School Mounts To Nine

DIXON, Ill. (AP)—Two more deaths brought to nine the flu toll today in the Dixon State School and Hospital for Mentally Retarded persons.

The death Monday night of a 39-year-old male inmate and death today of an 18-year-old charge were announced by Dr. Frederick Pickle, chief of the state's public health service.

Dr. Pickle said the current incidence and new cases continue to reflect a downward trend, although 70 new cases reported today were above Monday's figure of 67.

Those in bed with the ailment today numbered 1,131. Since the epidemic began, 2,191 persons have been stricken. Nearly half have been recorded as recovering satisfactorily.

Nervous Woman Clue To Presence Of Fugitive

CHICAGO (AP)—Visibly unnerved, a suburban housewife gave police the clue they needed Monday to seize an armed fugitive who had forced his way into her apartment and hidden beneath a bed.

Mrs. Shirley Almetti greeted police nervously as they came to her door in suburban River Grove while conducting a house-to-house search for Louis Frank, 26.

The woman said the officers arrived less than an hour after Frank had forced his way in, brandishing a pistol and threatening to kill her and her 4-year-old daughter if she disclosed his presence.

When patrolmen Edward Crader of Maywood and William Marker of Elmwood Park rang the doorbell, Mrs. Almetti said no one else was home. Her nervous state led the officers to suspect something and they entered and apprehended the gunman.

Police said Frank and a companion, who was not with him when he was seized, had snatched a bag of money earlier from a supermarket in suburban Elmwood Park. A chase followed, and the pair abandoned their car in River Grove.

Frank was charged with armed robbery and held for appearance Oct. 26 in Elmwood Park court.

Backs Danville Bus Petition For Fare Hike

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—An official of Danville City Line, Inc. today supported its petition for bus fare increases by testimony that patronage fell while operating costs went up.

In an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing, Frank Money, statistical director, said passenger volume last year dropped nearly 15 per cent.

Money said that out of every dollar received, the company now spends nearly 90 cents while under the proposed fares it would spend about 93 cents.

The City of Danville is objecting to the fare increases. These involve retaining the 15-cent adult cash fare, abolishing adult tokens at four for 55 cents, raising student fares from 10 cents to two tokens for 25 cents and increasing children fares from 7 to 10 cents.

Mayor Girth N. Hicks, city Atty. V. W. McIntire and Comm. Fred Mauch of Danville appeared at the hearing.

DIE OF FLU
PORTERVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Nine mentally retarded patients at Porterville State Hospital have died of complications resulting from influenza attacks in the past week and one-half. Dr. James T. Shelton, superintendent, said Monday.

Dr. Shelton said he has been making fruitless efforts to get flu vaccine since mid-September. "Now it is too late," Dr. Shelton said, adding that he feels the flu incidence at the hospital is "over the peak."

CATS GET LION'S SHARE
JONIA, Mich. (AP)—The will of Mrs. Blanche Bonner Barber, admitted to probate Monday, left most of her estate to provide food and care for her cats.

There was no immediate estimate on the size of the estate, but Probate Court set bond at $26,000 for the executrix, Mrs. Hattie Schaefer, Mrs. Barber, a widow and former Detroit school teacher, made small bequests to $1,100 to nieces and nephews and set up the rest of the estate as a fund for the cats.

Five Non-Resident Taxpayers File Suit For Injunction Here

by virtue of said agreement. Would Enjoin Treasurer

That the County Treasurer be perpetually enjoined and restrained from counter signing any warrants in connection with the agreement.

That the defendant, the J. L. Clemmishaw Co., be ordered to pay the costs of this proceedings, or that such costs be apportioned among the defendants as the court may see fit.

That all monies which have been paid by the County of Morgan to the J. L. Clemmishaw Co. under the agreement, be declared illegal payment of public funds.

That the County Board be ordered to rescind its resolution to contract for reappraisal, but did attack the purpose for which the money was expended.

Assistant Attorney Wilson called attention to Paragraph 16, Chapter 34, Illinois Revised Statutes, which he said invests County Commissioners with power to contract services. He quoted the statute:

"To expend monies for the preparation, establishment and maintenance of a detailed property record system which would provide information useful to assessment officials. Such record shall be available to all assessing officials. The County Board may enter into contracts with persons, firms, or corporations for the preparation and establishment of such record systems."

The immediate effect of the complaint for injunction could not be gauged at this early stage in the litigation.

The Clemmishaw Co. some time ago completed reappraisal of industrial and commercial personal property, and is still engaged in work with real estate. Since last January the company has had an office in the court house building, where a complete new file of property valuations is being prepared.

Says Secret Test Sent Radioactive Dust Onto Farms
LONDON (AP)—A secret experiment with H-bomb material was blamed in a newspaper report today for the accident which recently poured radioactive dust onto farms around the big Windscale atomic plant in northwest England.

The Daily Express said a canister of H-bomb material was being "cooked" in unusual heat in one of the plant's uranium furnaces.

The accident Oct. 19 spread radioactive dust from a chimney of the plant, which produces plutonium triggers for Britain's nuclear weapons.

Since then milk from 700 farms in 200 square miles around the plant, in Cumberland near the Scottish border, has been condemned. Farmers have been unable to sell their cattle, although assured by the government that the animals suffered no permanent injury.

The Atomic Energy Authority has announced that the furnace involved will be out of action "for some months."

The authority said radioactive dust escaped after a pilot over-heated and caused the accident could not be announced.

The Daily Express reported that scientists had told about insertion of a canister of H-bomb material in the pile. The paper said: "The canister began to react in an unexpected way when the temperature of the furnace was raised during a routine operation."

"Intense heat in the heart of the furnace split the aluminum covers of the furnace's uranium fuel rods. The uranium caught fire. Radioactive dust swept up the chimney."

Wilson Makes Statement

In the absence of State's Attorney Charles J. Ryan from the county, Assistant State's Attorney William T. Wilson was asked by the Journal Courier to comment on the filing of the suit.

Attorney Wilson declared that the statutes give authority to the County Board of Commissioners to contract for reappraisal. He pointed out that the complainants did not attack the validity of the sale of the Morgan county farm by the county commissioners, with which money was secured for reappraisal, but did attack the purpose for which the money was expended.

Wilson said the county board had been paid by the County of Morgan to the J. L. Clemmishaw Co. under the agreement, be declared illegal payment of public funds.

GI Housing Program Hit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The GI housing program received a virtual death blow today.

The Federal National Mortgage Assn. withdrew its offer to buy new mortgages at the Veterans Administration rate of 4 1/2 per cent.

FNMA purchases mortgages from banks and loan companies to furnish them with new cash for mortgage lending.

Explaining the changes, a FNMA spokesman said: "It's not good business to accept 4 1/2 per cent mortgages when we have to pay just about 5 per cent for our money."

RULES MAN CAN'T INHERIT ESTATE OF WIFE HE SLEW

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A probate judge ruled Monday that wife-slayer Raymond Wilson and his two children can't inherit any of the estate left by Wilson's wife.

County Judge Rudolph J. Mudrock said, "No system of laws permits a criminal to profit by his own crime."

Mrs. Ethel Wilson, 67, was slain in December, 1954. Her husband, formerly of West Allis, is serving a life term in Waupun State Prison for the killing.

Mrs. Wilson left the bulk of her $3,832 estate to Wilson.

WHEAT, BEANS DIP IN PROFIT TAKING

By EARL AYKROID

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures at times were off more than three cents a bushel and soybeans declined more than two cents on the Board of Trade today.

The downturn in the broad grains reflected profit taking following a moderate rally. Weakness in soybeans was attributed to smaller soybean crushings during September than in the previous month.

Carlot grain receipts in Chicago were estimated at: wheat 5 cars, corn 67, oats 6, rye none, barley 3 and soybeans 14.

New style wheat closed 2 1/4 lower, Dec. $2.16-15 1/4, corn 3/4 lower, Dec. $1.20-14 1/4, oats 1/4 to 3/4 lower, Dec. 67 1/2, rye 2 1/4 to 3 lower, Dec. $1.25-24 1/4, soybeans 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 lower, Nov. $2.28-28 1/4, lard 5 cents lower to 5 cents higher per hundred pounds, Nov. $11.60.

POULTRY MARKET

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — On the Pacific Coast, it seems that every other school is ineligible for the Rose Bowl. A couple of others are not allowed to play seniors.

This stems from the raft of investigations which have been the thing to do out there in the past few years.

And while all this goes on about him, Jim Sutherland, a man who had a hand in starting it all, quite likely will land in Pasadena on New Year's Day with a spectacular Washington State team.

College football in this modern, improved era of the sport — at least we're told it's this way — always seems to wind up with tales such as this.

The Pacific Coast Conference, which deteriorated from one of the nation's mightiest to a group of nine deflated schools ready to dissolve the league and go their own ways at season's end, would have been a lot better off had Ronnie Knox completed a couple of touchdown passes in the second half of the Santa Monica-Inglewood High game in 1951. Leading 12-0 at the half, Knox's Inglewood team fell apart as Santa Monica, coached by Jim Sutherland, went on to win, 16-12.

THIS IMPRESSED HARVEY KNOX, the celebrated professional septathlete, to the extent that he transferred to Santa Monica. This was all, when you look back on it, that Sutherland needed.

In the bargaining for young Knox, Sutherland seemed a necessary accessory. The University of California took both — and the disturbances started. Harvey Knox started to scream that his Ronnie wasn't being handled properly. Harvey again switched his talented stepson, this time to UCLA. Later Harvey produced a raft of canceled checks as investigators went to work and out of it came crackdowns which wrecked UCLA and Southern California.

In the meantime, Sutherland spent a couple of years at California, then went to Washington. When Suths, as he is nicknamed, was summarily dismissed as the Washington backfield coach, Johnny Cherbeg, who was also deposed as head man, said Sutherland was fired because he helped inspire player revolts.

NOW SUTHERLAND is head coach at Washington State, where he has stirred up more excitement than he caused trouble elsewhere. The Cougars already have edged California and Stanford with a squad which mighty Iowa could beat by no more than a touchdown in Iowa City.

The Pullman outfit went into the Oregon game determined to knock out its only remaining opponent eligible for the Rose Bowl.

Southern California and UCLA can't play seniors — the league still is on them — and Oregon State is barred from a return trip to Pasadena by the silly two-year rule. Washington is barred from the Bowl because of too vigorous recruiting and hardly would qualify anyway.

CANADIAN-BORN, 45-YEAR-OLD Jim Sutherland was a reserve blocking back during Southern California's famine years of 1934-35-36. While Suths had a fine record as a high school coach and quickly ridged Washington State of its defeatist complex, is a coach it seems he brought a good-sized famine to the entire Pacific Coast Conference.

It was, when you look back on it, a real important half-time pep talk he gave those Santa Monica kids in 1951.

That pep talk not only started Ronnie Knox on his travels but also changed the far western college football map.

Warmath Willing To Accept Blame For Upset Loss

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota football coach Murray Warmath said Monday he is willing to accept full responsibility for the Gophers' 34-13 rout by Illinois.

"When something like the Illinois game happens," Warmath told the Tribune-Quarterback Club, "the inescapable responsibility rests on the shoulders of one man alone. And I am glad to accept the responsibility."

Privately, however, his players didn't agree with Warmath's assessment of where the blame lay. "We played a terrible game," said end Perry Gehring, "and no one was to blame but ourselves."

Warmath didn't try to explain why the Gophers fared so badly against a team they were favored to beat by two touchdowns. "Don't ask me why," he said. "If I'd known why beforehand I would have tried to have done something about it."

"We were not surprised by any Illinois maneuver, we were simply outplayed. And I thought our boys, who are the finest bunch I've been associated with, fought like lions all the way."

The Gopher coach said he wasn't going to mention "that horrible word, Illinois" once he left the meeting. "We have already turned our thoughts to Michigan."

Evansville Seeks Franchise In Southern Assn.

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Mayor Vance Hartke Monday confirmed a report by the Memphis, Tenn., Press-Scimitar that Evansville will try to land a franchise in the Class AA Southern Assn.

Hartke and Paul Bonham, president of the Evansville Fans Club, will make the bid Tuesday at the Southern Assn. directors meeting in Memphis.

The mayor said the city would make no definite offer but would inform the association of its facilities and what it is capable of doing to support a team.

Until the close of the past season, Evansville was the home of the Braves, a Milwaukee-backed team in the Class B Three-I League. Milwaukee has announced it will move the franchise to another city next year, although no spot has been selected.

Plans are now underway for a $400,000 renovation of Bosse Field, the old Braves home park. The stadium seats 5,500.

Later in the week, manager Walter Alston, Pee Wee Reese, Gil Hodges and Roy Campanella will go to Los Angeles.

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — Douglas Prewitt's Terra Firma and Foxcatcher Farm's Rose Trellis Monday were made supplemental nominees for the world's richest race at Garden State Park Saturday at a cost of $10,000 each.

Still another $10,000 is expected Tuesday to enter Jewell's Reward in the big Garden State Stakes. With the three supplementary entries, all will have been nominated to start. If all go the race would gross $263,150 with first money amounting to $149,734, $52,630 for second, and $34,472 for third.

This will be the fifth running of the Garden State, a mile and one-sixteenth contest for two-year-olds.

BULAWAYO, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — Australian ace Lew Hoad, twice Wimbledon champion, scored his sixth victory in 10 matches against Australian Ken Rosewall, 6-3, 7-5 in an exhibition given by Jack Kramer's professional tennis troupe Monday.

East Lansing, Mich. (AP) — The victory honeymoon over the Michigan State football team settled grimly down to work Monday.

The Spartans are trying to forget about that stunning 20-13 upset by Purdue and concentrate on salvaging the remainder of the season.

NEW YORK (AP) — The old professor greeted his Monday morning class of football coaches brightly. That is, he was all lit up, as usual, and the pupils eyed him tolerantly. They knew he was made of stout stuff, at least 90 proof.

The old Professor—Good morning, gentlemen. I hope. That is, I hope it is a good morning. I know you are gentlemen. Any problems Monday?

Forest Evashevski, Iowa (Iowa 21, Wisconsin 7)—Not today, professor, but Wisconsin gave us a lot of problems Saturday. Coach Bruhn has a well-drilled team that will battle anyone in the conference. The turning point was Bill Gravel's interception and 44-yard run in the fourth quarter.

Mill Bruhn, Wisconsin—I'm real flustered. Our young squad learned a lot. Alex Karras and Dick Klein, Iowa tackles, are two of the best in the country.

Old Professor—In the city, too, I've heard. Two fine boys. You seem alert, Mr. Dietzel.

Paul Dietzel, Louisiana State (LSU 21, Kentucky 0)—My team was Saturday, professor. I'll say this is the most alert team I've coached at LSU. Our line goal line stands really impressed me, and I was very pleased with the play of the second team. Our end play also was fine. I will admit we had a lot of breaks.

Blanton Collier, Kentucky—LSU has a fine first team and a good line. We fumbled away our chances, and at the right, on a fumble, time this really can change the complexion of a game.

Old Professor—Mr. Meek, you seem like a man of generous nature.

Bill Meek, Southern Methodist (Rice 27, SMU 21)—Well, we sure helped Rice's national offensive average, but I assure you we didn't intend to. Rice proved its ranking was justified. I felt the difference in the game was sure.

Rickey Claims Realignment Of Leagues Needed

DENVER (AP)—Branch Rickey, a baseball figure for more than a half century, said Monday realignment of major and minor leagues is a blessing in disguise because it "has been needed for so long."

Rickey came to Denver as a member of the president's committee on employment in the federal government, which is holding several meetings in the west.

He said he sees no necessity of the Pacific Coast League's collapsing because of the National League's franchise transfers to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

"The coast league might be better off now that the move has been done," he said. "The league hasn't been healthy for several years because of the impending move of the majors into the territory. Now it can reorganize without that worry."

Jacksonville Fr.-Soph Gridders Nip Flyers On Extra-Point, 7-6

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Jacksonville High's Freshman-Sophomore eleven defeated a fine sophomore aggregation from Peitshans here last night, 7-6, with an all-important extra-point.

Fine running by Don Schillinger, Wayne Stewart and Gary Spangenberg got the young Gridders off to their winning tally in the initial period. Spangenberg capped the 75 yard scoring drive when he took a pitchout and skirted his left end for 25 yards and the TD. Don Schillinger plunged for the point after and this proved to be the deciding factor.

The Flyers from Peitshans struck paydirt in the second period on a 75 yard dash by their quarterback but the try for the point after touchdown was no good and left the hosts trailing, 7-6, for the remainder of the game.

Jacksonville controlled the ball most of the second half but failed to present any kind of a serious scoring drive.

The victory was JHS' fifth in six starts. The loss was the first dealt to Peitshans this season in six games.

Score By Quarters:
Jacksonville 7 0 0 0-7
Peitshans 0 6 0 0-6

Girl Caddies Making Big Hit With U. S. Golfers

By WILL GRIMSLEY
TOKYO (AP)—The International Canada Cup matches here this week may prove a new world-wide style in golf—girl caddies.

Professionals from 30 nations are having their bags toted around the Kasumigaseki Country Club by petite little things ranging in age between 17 and 22—and they love it.

"They are terrific," is the unanimous sentiment.

"They carry these big bags around as if they were purses," said Sam Snead. "They never seem to get tired and they're always fresh and pleasant. Why, back home I've got big husky guys who act like they're dying. They puff and pant and plop down on the ground every chance they get."

Canada's Al Balding said the girls were the best caddies he's ever seen.

"They don't try to tell you what club to use but they're great on the bag and the player, such as 'Jimmy Demaret,' on the front for easy identification."

A Japanese golf official said girl caddies have been in use in this country for years.

"It's a matter of economy," he said. "It's hard to get men for the price we pay, which is 200 yen for an 18-hole round."

Two hundred yen is about 40 cents. In America, tournament caddies get a minimum of $5. The going rate is $10.

Woman Testifies
She Lied To Get
$70,000 Estate

CHICAGO (AP)—A St. Petersburg, Fla., woman stated in Criminal Court Monday that she lied in furthering her claim to the $70,000 estate of a Polish immigrant tailor.

Mrs. Helen Compell, 54, testified that "I just lied" to Charles J. Fleck, former Cook County public administrator, in telling him she was the daughter of the tailor, Frank J. Rozanski, and entitled to his estate. She said Fleck had no knowledge of the fraudulence of her claim.

Rozanski died in 1954 without leaving a will.

Fleck was dismissed as public administrator, one of the most lucrative jobs in Cook County after he and six others, including Mrs. Compell, were indicted for conspiracy to defraud in settlement of the Rozanski estate. The public administrator handles estates of persons who die without leaving wills.

Fleck is the first of the defendants to go on trial.

Mrs. Compell also admitted that she never told Fleck about splitting the $50,000, which she said she received from the Rozanski estate, with Joseph Lucania, owner of a funeral home. Lucania had been accused by Mrs. Compell of intimidating her to pose as Rozanski's daughter.

Mrs. Compell gave her testimony as a state witness during Fleck's trial. Her trial on conspiracy charges has been set for later this month.

Her plea for immunity for turning state's evidence has been denied.

Predict Increase
In Lung Cancer
Among Women

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A California public health official said Monday he expects a sharp increase in lung cancer among women during the 1960s as a result of cigarette smoking.

Dr. Lester Breslow, chief of the state's bureau of chronic diseases, said he is convinced cigarette smoking is one of the major causes of lung cancer.

The fact that it occurs mostly in men at present, he said, is because it takes about 20 years of heavy smoking to cause the disease.

"Women didn't take up smoking on a large scale until the 1930s," he said. "But I firmly believe the effect of their smoking since then will show up in increased cases of lung cancer during the next decade."

Dr. Breslow was a witness before the Senate Interim committee on public health.

TV MONEY WINNER
SETS SIGHTS ON
SEAT IN CONGRESS

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold Craig, 26-year-old farmer from Granville, N.Y., was dethroned Monday night as champion of a national TV quiz show. He immediately announced he is available as a Republican candidate for Congress.

Craig fell before his determined challenger, 36-year-old David Mayer, a psychologist from New York City. The pair had tied eight previous times before Mayer eliminated Craig from NBC-TV's "Twenty One Show" by a 21-18 score.

The victory meant $12,500 to Mayer, who will try for greater riches. The same amount was lopped off Craig's previous winnings, leaving him with $106,000—before taxes.

The congressional seat which Craig cast his eye is currently held by another Republican, Dean Park Taylor of Troy, N.Y.

The first British settlement in Australia was a penal colony made in 1788 near the present city of Sydney.

Ship Finds Man Missing On Sea In 17-Foot Motor Boat

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (AP)—The Coast Guard announced Monday that Melvin West, 28-year-old disabled Korean War veteran missing on a 580-mile trip to Bermuda in a 17-foot outboard motorboat, had been picked up alive by a merchant ship about 200 miles from Bermuda.

The 5th District Coast Guard headquarters in Norfolk, Va., said the S.S. Alderman had found the radio disc jockey and father of two children, supplied him with extra gasoline, oil and food, and he was continuing his journey to Bermuda.

The Coast Guard said West was found at latitude 33.41 north and longitude 72.02 west on course.

It added that the ocean in the vicinity was clear and calm.

Coast Guard ships and planes had scoured the Atlantic for the adventurer, who originally expected the trip in the 36-horsepower boat to take him about 40 hours, or until shortly after midnight last Saturday. When he cast off Thursday morning he had fuel for 72 hours — which was up Sunday morning.

West, who lives here and has been around water all his life, was confident he could make what he believed would be the longest outboard trip over open ocean — and prove the seaworthiness of such motors and small boats.

The disc jockey at a radio station in Jacksonville, N.C., 42 miles from here, had a radio which could receive but not transmit. He said he didn't want to put up with the "red tape" of obtaining an operator's license to transmit, and anyway he was afraid federal licensing authorities would look askance on such a trip.

A merchant ship reported it had sighted a flare Sunday night 50 miles east-southeast of here. But an intensive 50-square mile hunt over the area had turned up no sign of man or boat.

West had flares aboard, plus running lights, rain gear, fishing equipment, and a compass and sextant.

There were 16 planes and two Coast Guard cutters hunting for West from this area and from Bermuda. Commercial ships along the Bermuda route were asked to keep a lookout.

His father, Barry, who manages a fishing pier here, said: "We are so happy we don't know what to say. Now we will have to live with it for another day or so, to find out whether he makes it. I'm pretty sure he will. I had confidence all the time in his seamanship."

"I'm having a hard time managing Harold lately. Mother—I thought I'd come back for a refresher course!"

U.S. Delegate
Confident Atomic
Agency Will Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Cole (R-N.Y.), recently named director general of the International Atomic Energy Agency, said Monday he is confident the agency will work, even with Russians in high positions.

"If the Russians continue in their evident sincerity of purpose, I am sure the agency can work," he said. "I am frankly impressed with their evident sincerity."

Cole said he would make no commitments regarding appointments to administrative posts immediately, but added: "The Russians are entitled to positions of responsibility. I don't yet know what they will be."

Cole spoke at a news conference after his arrival from Vienna, where he attended the organizational meeting of the atomic agency.

Regarding his own political future, Cole said, "I have no present intention of running for Congress again."

The 11-term member, who is giving up his seat in Congress, added, however, "I don't know what will happen in four years. The people might then want me to run."

The first most important task of the agency, Cole said, will be in the field of fellowships and scholarships in nuclear science. The next, he said, would be the problem of public liability in the operation of reactors.

METHODISTS PLAN NEW CHURCHES

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The Methodist church will put special emphasis on establishing new churches and Sunday schools from March, 1958, to March, 1959. Bishop Roy H. Short said the 12-month campaign, concentrating on organizing new churches in suburban and industrial areas as well as in neglected rural regions, is part of a six-year church program to strengthen local churches.

Interpreting
The News

By WILLIAM N. OATIS (for J. M. Roberts)

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States isn't talking about the Eisenhower Doctrine here these days.

The doctrine took shape early this year after word came that Syria, like Egypt, was getting Soviet-bloc arms.

A month ago Secretary of State Dulles mentioned the doctrine in a U.N. speech citing Syria as a place where "political power has increasingly been taken over by those who depend upon Moscow."

Dulles said that "when the Soviet threat to the Middle East was recently resumed," Congress reacted with a joint resolution authorizing the President to give economic and military aid to help Middle East nations remain independent.

He recalled that this resolution, signed March 9, said, "The United States is prepared to use armed forces to assist any such nation, requesting assistance against armed aggression from any country controlled by international communism."

This was the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Dulles said the General Assembly should discuss the Middle East situation. He reserved the right to introduce proposals.

Last Wednesday that situation was raised by Syrian Foreign Minister Salah Bitar. He asked that the Assembly consider Syria's "complaint about threats to the security of Syria and to international peace." Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko backed him up. Both charged Turkey was massing troops for an attack on Syria.

Gromyko said the attack was being planned with U.S. advice and would come late this month.

U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, back from a Washington Cabinet meeting last Friday morning, told the U.N. that the charges against the United States and Turkey were absurd.

Lodge reaffirmed a U.S. pledge. But it wasn't the Eisenhower Doctrine.

It was a White House statement that the United States "will observe its commitments within constitutional means to oppose any aggression in the area."

"The United States," the statement went on, "is likewise determined to support and assist any nation which might be subjected to such aggression."

This statement was issued April 9, 1956—11 months before the Eisenhower Doctrine became law. What prompted it was not Soviet activities but repeated incidents on the borders between Israel and her Arab neighbors — particularly Egypt and Syria.

At that time, the United States got the U.N. Security Council to send Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld to the Middle East to calm things down. He obtained a cease-fire agreement from Israel, Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria.

What happened between the time Dulles played up the Eisenhower Doctrine — and the time Lodge neglected to mention it — Arab delegates told the Assembly nobody ought to interfere in Syria's internal affairs — that if anybody attacked Syria, their countries would help her. They declared Syria herself threatened nobody.

The Eisenhower Doctrine was based on the tacit theory that there was communism in Syria and Syria was a menace. The Arabs showed this theory was not popular in their part of the world.

The United States now is soft-pedaling the doctrine.

The closeup faded out rumors of divorce involving an Indian script girl.

The Swedish-born film star, her blonde hair flying, ran across the crowded waiting room to throw herself in the arms of the Italian movie director on his arrival by plane from Bombay.

"Oh, I'm so happy," she cried as they kissed.

Rosellini stroked her hair tenderly.

"Now maybe you will believe me when I tell you there is no truth to those stories that have bothered me for so long," Ingrid told reporters.

They had asked if the reunion finished gossip that Rosellini had fallen in love with Indian script girl, Sonali Das Gupta, during his year-long work on documentary films in India.

And Rosellini was asked what about "these divorce rumors?"

"That is absolute nonsense," he replied.

The two entered a car with diplomatic licenses and drove off with two Italian friends, laughing and chatting.

Capture Man And Son Who Fled From Jail

CARROLLTON, Ill. — A father and son who broke jail here on the night of Friday, Oct. 18, were captured at 5:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in a blue house on the Missouri river near St. Charles, Mo.

The fugitives, who were taken into custody by Greene county officers, assisted by Missouri officers, are William Bradford Duffer, 48, and William Earl Duffer, 21.

Heading the party of officials which made the capture were Deputy Sheriff Leonard Stone and Patrolman Richard Burruss of Carrollton. Duffer and his son, both under indictment for burglary of the Wildhagen hardware store at Carrollton, several months ago, chipped their way out of the Greene county brick jail where they were prisoners on the second floor. They stacked the bricks in a corner, sliding to the ground on blankets fashioned into a rope.

Sheriff Fred Ballard and Supervisors Eugene Batty and Lester Springman went to St. Charles Tuesday morning where the two prisoners are held, awaiting return to Illinois.

Says Illinois Tax System Needs Overhaul

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Stratton said today Illinois' tax system needs a complete overhaul to provide a more workable and fair system.

But until that can be done through a constitutional amendment, he said, improvements should be sought in the existing system.

The governor spoke at the first meeting of a special 15-member commission set up by the 1957 Legislature to study personal property tax laws and submit recommendations to the 1959 Assembly.

Stratton pushed a constitutional revenue amendment through the Legislature two years ago but it was rejected by voters. It could not be put up to a referendum again until 1960.

The tax group elected Rep. Lee Daniels (R-Elmhurst) chairman. State's Atty. August Black of Grundy county was named second vice chairman.

Benson Hopes World Trade Will Slim Surpluses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson hopes that a world trade tour he starts today will help get another year's extension of an important farm surplus disposal program.

Large quantities of the surpluses moving abroad are being sold under a law that permits the Agriculture Department to accept foreign currencies as payment and allow those currencies to be spent in the purchasing countries to help finance various U.S. government operations.

This law, the Agricultural Trade Development Act, expires next June 30.

Benson wants it extended until the middle of 1959. He feels that more time is needed to get rid of big farm surpluses and to develop permanent markets in countries getting the benefit of the law.

Aides said Benson hopes to come back from his 24-day tour with broad foreign endorsements of the program. Most of the countries he is scheduled to visit are getting surpluses under the program.

STRIKE HITS ARGENTINA

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Seven unions claiming more than three million members began a 48-hour general strike at midnight Monday demanding wage increases to meet the rising cost of living.

The unions, whose membership comprises nearly half of Argentina's workmen, defied pleas of provisional president Pedro Aramburu to stay on the job and increase production to ease inflation.

Some observers said the strike might so disrupt the country that it would topple Aramburu's government, which has ruled under a state of siege for almost three weeks.

Mutes 'Listen' With Eyes To Murder Verdict

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Two deaf mute brothers "listened" with their eyes Monday as a sign language expert informed them they had been found guilty of first degree murder.

The mutes, Joseph Buzs, 20, and his brother, Burt, 16, of nearby Barton, took the verdict impassively.

The jury that heard the eight-day trial did not recommend mercy, making the death sentence mandatory.

Belmont County Common Pleas Judge Ross Meneer withheld sentencing until the brothers' attorneys file a motion for a new trial.

The brothers were convicted of the April 10 slaying of Mrs. Mary Denham, 76, a gasoline station operator near Barton, in a dispute over two worthless check stubs.

GLENNWOOD SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A father-and-son hunting trip ended in tragedy in the mountains near here early Monday when an 8-year-old boy froze to death in his father's arms.

The father, Junior Scott, told Farnum he held his son against his own body in an effort to keep him warm while they were stranded Sunday night on the rain-swept rimrocks. The child, Scott said, lapsed into unconsciousness and ceased breathing sometime before daylight.

Scott and his son were unsuccessful in their attempt to find a trail down from the shale rimrocks in the dark. Rain extinguished their fire.

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two articles discussing the scope and impact of the military cutback program now in progress at the Pentagon.)

BY ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The aircraft industry, already feeling the pinch of the military program cutback, predicts that 100,000 more men may have to be laid off in its factories.

Here and there throughout the country, local stresses are arising from the closing down of armed forces facilities and government-owned plants which employ civilians.

But an Associated Press survey also discloses that although the reduction in the defense program is the largest since the end of World War II, its impact on some basic industries — like steel and aluminum — is so diffused as to be relatively light.

In some defense quarters, there have been rough estimates that for all industries holding defense contracts, the cutback might eventually mean a reduction in working force of perhaps 200,000. This layoff period would extend over a year or more.

A Commerce-Labor Department report for the month of September listed 16,971,000 persons as employed in manufacturing industry throughout the United States, and over-all employment totals are near a peak.

Most — perhaps more than 90 per cent — of the cost of a military weapon involves labor. The cost of material is minor.

Out of the 38 billion dollars spent in the current fiscal year by the military, about 12 billion dollars is for procurement — of planes, missiles, ships, guns, ammunition.

The cutback in the military program is not a reduction from either figure. It is a cutback in the amount of hardware which can be purchased for 12 billion dollars because the cost of weapons has gone up. If the number of items bought is reduced, there will be fewer workers needed to produce them.

Orval R. Cook, president of the Aircraft Industries Assn. and former Air Force general, says that the figure of 12 billion dollars, 100,000 more layoffs are expected in the aircraft industry. That will be a drop from a present level of about 900,000.

Cook says the effects of the cutback will not be uniform throughout the industry, that one segment of the industry, the air transport business, is growing steadily.

"Fortunately at the right time," he says, "the industry is in a position to absorb the cutback."

NEW YORK — In a three-month period, about 10,000 have been laid off in aircraft plants on Long Island. Bell Aircraft's Buffalo plant has laid off 2,000 workers this year, due to defense cutback and loss of contracts.

TEXAS — Convair reported it began cutting back before general reduction order from Washington "because of slowdown in orders."

23,000 employed now compared peak of 24,800; prospect of new jet commercial airliner may bring employment back up. Bell Helicopter has a "slight cutback in employees and work, but not much."

Chance Vought is undergoing a "stretchout program" in both planes and missiles, expects payroll decline of about 1,000 from present 17,500 during next year.

Temco Aircraft Corp. — making missiles, planes and subassemblies — says it has made some slight cutbacks and paring of fat in operations.

CALIFORNIA — Spokesmen for the industry says anticipated layoffs from cutback program will spare present force of 212,000 men in metropolitan Los Angeles area down to about 200,000 by the end of this year. These employment figures include missile and electronic plants, which are tied into aircraft industry.

INDIANA — Allison Division of General Motors laying off 950 during current year because of jet engine contract cancellation and other cutbacks.

WASHINGTON — Air Force procurement officer at Seattle said Boeing Airplane Co., so far unaffected. Some cutbacks may come later, but may be slight because of high priority status of B-52 bomber, KC-135 jet tanker and B-57D guided missile. However, company has started a work force reduction of 6,000 to 8,000 men by not filling vacancies which occur.

OHO — General Electric jet engine plant at Cincinnati laying off 3,200 out of 17,200 employees; delivery stretchout and fewer engines returned for overhaul given as reason. North American plant at Columbus laid off 3,000 out of 15,700 employees, due partly to cutback and partly to completion of work on previous contracts.

Thompson Products, making aircraft components, laying off 3,000 out of 25,000.

CONNECTICUT — United Aircraft says it is unaffected so far and doesn't expect to be "in the foreseeable future."

The impact is more direct in communities where the government owns and operates or has contractors operate plants like ammunition facilities and shipyards.

Pamela Hoagland and Lorraine Hardy have received the floating prize, an autograph bound, for being top in their particular grades.

Teachers are also showing much enthusiasm as a "sleepy dog" travels from home-room to home-room. Mrs. Kirchhofer's room had the dog Monday with follow-ups Mr. Elliott's room, 12 cents behind and Mr. Scott's room next in line.

Record certificates were issued to each pupil selling fifteen dollars or more subscriptions. They were by courtesy from The Tune Shop. Sixty-four certificates went to 41 students on Monday and 84 received free ice cream bars.

The school appreciates the wholehearted cooperation of the public in accepting the sales efforts of the students in the PTA sponsored project.

Report Cards Mailed To Parents Tuesday

Report cards were issued at Jacksonville High School Tuesday. As has been the policy for several years, the first report cards are mailed to parents. Subsequent cards will not be mailed but will be given to the students to take home.

Report cards are issued each six weeks and the next report cards will be issued on Friday, Dec. 6.

Principal John Agger explained that the report is somewhat different from the traditional report card. A separate progress report is made for each school subject and is designed to give more than a grade. Several items appear on the card. The teachers will not always check all items but where sufficient evidence justifies satisfactory or unsatisfactory progress will be indicated.

"School officials are anxious to have all boys and girls do the very best possible work in school," Principal Agger emphasized. "To do this students must have an interest and purpose in getting an education. Parents can assist students by helping plan for their future, by giving attention to their health, by insisting on regular attendance and by providing a quiet place at home for study."

I.C. And Mac Have Inter-Campus Meet

Fifty students from Illinois College and MacMurray College met at Barnes House on the Illinois College campus Sunday evening from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. in the first inter-campus meeting of the newly enlarged United Student Fellowship. Hosts were President and Mrs. L. Vernon Caine.

The Fellowship heard an address by the Rev. Stephen Diller, minister of the Congregational Church of Highland, Ill. Mr. Diller is a widely known speaker at youth camps and college programs and has been active in the Camps For Christ Out program.

Mr. Diller's address followed a song period, led by Annunty Tangkue, co-chairman of the group; a business session conducted by co-chairman Peter Dietrich; and a devotional service conducted by Bill Reneker. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Special guests at the meeting were Mrs. Mary Munk, director of foods at Illinois College; Dr. Decker and Rutter, College Librarian; and Mrs. John Primus, wife of Professor Primus of the Economics department of Illinois College.

Advisors to the United Student Fellowship are Mrs. L. Vernon Caine and the Rev. Clyde J. Steckel, Chaplain and Assistant Professor of Religion at Illinois College.

Religious Movement
The United Student Fellowship nationwide is the student religious movement of the Evangelical and Reformed and Congregational-Christian Churches. Merger negotiations are underway which would bring the student religious work of the Disciples of Christ, Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., into the United Student Fellowship.

In Jacksonville one step of this proposed merger has already occurred, with the Presbyterian student group joined to the work of the United Student Fellowship. Thus the United Student Fellowship, the student work of the Presbyterian, Congregational and Evangelical and Reformed Churches on both the MacMurray and Illinois College campuses. Future meetings will be held in faculty homes and on the campuses of both colleges.
